The Capitals face the Boston Bruins in the First Round of the 2021 Stanley Cup Playoffs.

The Capitals split the season series with the Bruins, 4-4-0. Nicklas Backstrom led the Capitals this season with nine points (1g, 8a) in eight games against the Bruins. Washington had 16 different goal scorers against Boston, with T.J. Oshie leading the way with five goals. The Capitals are 20-6-0 (.769 point percentage) against the Bruins in the regular season since the start of 2014-15, the most wins in the NHL versus Boston during that span (New York Rangers, 2nd: 13 wins). During that same span, Washington is 10-3-0 vs. Boston at Capital One Arena and have outscored the Bruins 42-26 in those 13 games.

This marks the fourth time the two franchises have met in the playoffs for a playoff series (previously, 1990 Conference Final, 1998 Conference Quarterfinal, 2012 Conference Quarterfinal). Washington has an all-time series record of 2-1 against Boston and a 9-9 record in playoff games, which includes last season's Round Robin playoff game in Toronto, which the Capitals won 2-1.

The Capitals enter the 2021 postseason with 41 playoff wins since 2015, the second-most wins in the NHL during that span (Tampa Bay: 54).

JAN. 14 | CAPS START SEASON WITH SIX-PACK ATTACK OVER SABRES
On the one-year anniversary of the announcement of his five-year contract extension, Nicklas Backstrom started the season’s scoring early in the first, the first of six different goal scorers helping the Caps to a 6-4 opening night win over the Sabres in Buffalo. T.J. Oshie scored Washington’s first power-play goal of the season and finished with three points, and Jakub Vrana supplied the game-winning goal for the second straight opening night. With the win, Washington improved its all-time record in season-opening games to 23-21-1-1.

JAN. 15 | NET GAIN: VANECK’S NHL DEBUT RESULTS IN VICTORY
Vitek Vanecek stopped 30 of 31 shots in his NHL debut, helping the Caps squeak past the Sabres 2-1 as Washington swept a season-opening set of back-to-back games in Buffalo. Vanecek stopped every shot he faced in the game’s first 40 minutes, enabling the Caps to nurse a 1-0 lead to the third despite being outshot 26-13. After Buffalo tied the game early in the third, Tom Wilson netted the game-winner midway through the third to help the 25-year-old Vanecek record his first NHL win.

JAN. 26 | CAPS STUN ISLES ON SCHULTZ GOAL IN FINAL MINUTE
Despite playing without five of their top regulars and losing two more key players as the night wore on, the undermanned Caps overcame adversity and avoided heading to overtime for what would have been a franchise record fifth straight game. In their first meeting with the Islanders since the 2020 Stanley Cup Playoffs, the Caps eked out a 3-2 win in regulation when Justin Schultz scored off the rush with 26.4 seconds remaining, snapping a 2-2 tie and giving Washington a 3-2 triumph.

JAN. 30 | OVECHKIN HELPS CAPS OVERCOME BRUINS IN OVERTIME
Caps captain Alex Ovechkin ended a four-game absence because of COVID-19 protocol, showing up for the morning skate and jumping right back into the lineup for the first time in 11 nights. Although Ovechkin logged only 14:24 in ice time in his return to the lineup, he made his presence felt with the overtime game-winning goal in Washington’s 4-3 win over Boston. Ovechkin’s goal – the 708th of his NHL career – came just 28 seconds into overtime and it tied him with Mike Gartner for seventh place on the NHL’s all-time goals list. With the victory, the Caps improved to 6-0-3 on the season, extending their season-opening point streak to a franchise record nine.

FEB. 21 | CAPS OVERPOWER DEVILS WITH TRIO OF EXTRA-MAN TALLIES
Trailing the Devils 2-0 midway through the second period, the Capitals rallied on the strength of three power-play goals, two from T.J. Oshie and the game-winner from Alex Ovechkin in the third period of a 4-3 Washington win. The three power-play goals in a game were the most for the Caps since they netted four goals with the extra man on Oct. 3, 2018 in a 7-0 opening night victory over Boston. Making his first start of the season and first in nearly a full calendar year, veteran goaltender Craig Anderson stopped 23 shots to earn his first victory as a member of the Capitals.
FEB 28 | SAMSONOV HELPS CAPS TO WIN IN FIRST NHL START IN SIX WEEKS
After six weeks away from the crease because of COVID-19 protocol, Ilya Samsonov returned to make his third start of the season, claiming his first victory since opening night with a 3-2 win over the Devils in New Jersey. After a rusty start in which he was beaten on the second shot he faced, Samsonov went on to make 19 saves to earn the victory. Alex Ovechkin netted the game-winning goal, his third of the season.

MARCH 15 | CAPS STRIKE SIX TIMES AT 5-ON-5 IN SUPPORT OF VANECEK’S FIRST NHL SHUTOUT
Washington roared to a 6-0 win over the Sabres in Buffalo, getting goals from six different players with all six being scored at 5-on-5. Two months to the day after earning his first NHL win in Buffalo, Vitek Vanecek notched his first career shutout with a 23-save effort over the Sabres in the same building. Alex Ovechkin netted the 717th goal of his NHL career, tying Phil Esposito for sixth place on the NHL’s all-time goals ledger.

MARCH 18 | OVECHKIN TAKES OVER SIXTH PLACE ON GOALS LIST IN WIN OVER ISLES
Home from their longest road trip of the season, the Caps claimed a 3-1 win over the New York Islanders, their third win in as many games against the Isles to that point of the season. Ovechkin also recorded his 1,300th career point in the game, becoming the 35th player in League history to achieve that milestone. Ilya Samsonov made 21 saves to record his fifth victory in as many starts since coming off the COVID-19 protocol list.

MARCH 19 | OVECHKIN STRIKES TWICE LATE TO GIVE CAPS WIN OVER RANGERS
Down 1-0 to the Rangers in the latter stages of the third period, the Caps got two goals from Alex Ovechkin in a span of 3:09 to overcome the Blueshirts, 2-1. Ovechkin’s late goals made a winner of Vitek Vanecek, who stopped 32 of the 33 shots he faced in the game. With an assist on Ovechkin’s second goal of the game, John Carlson recorded the 393rd helper of his career, passing Mike Gartner for sole possession of fourth place on Washington’s all-time franchise assists ledger.

MARCH 26 | OVECHKIN SCORES TWICE IN SUPPORT OF SAMSONOV’S SECOND CAREER SHUTOUT
Ilya Samsonov stopped all 24 shots sent in his direction, recording his first shutout of the season and the second of his NHL career as the Caps downed the New Jersey Devils, 4-0. Ovechkin scored Washington’s first and fourth goals of the night, giving him nine goals in eight games. In the process, he recorded the 148th multi-goal game of his NHL career, moving ahead of Gordie Howe for sole possession of fourth place in multi-goal games. Ovechkin’s game-winner was his third in a span of five games. Only one Caps player has ever had more game-winners over a five-game span, and that was Bengt Gustafsson who had four game-winners in five games from Feb. 7-18, 1986.

APRIL 11 | CAPS ERUPT FOR EIGHT GOALS IN LOPSided WIN OVER B’S IN BOSTON
T.J. Oshie, Conor Sheary and Lars Eller each scored twice as the Caps put a crooked number on the board in all three periods in an 8-1 victory over the Bruins in Boston. All 12 Washington forwards picked up a point in the game, a feat the team achieved before the end of the second period. Washington’s eight-goal outburst was its first in more than a decade, since an 8-1 win over the Thrashers in Atlanta on Jan. 9, 2010.
APRIL 15 | A GRAND NIGHT FOR N1KY BACKSTROM
Although the Caps came out on the wrong end of a 5-2 final score, nothing could dampen the mood of the celebration for Caps center Nicklas Backstrom, who was honored on the occasion of his 1,000th career NHL game. The team aired a video tribute that Backstrom was able to watch on the overhead scoreboard screen with his family just before the game, he was presented with the traditional silver stick to commemorate his 1,000th game, a gift of an all-expenses-paid golf trip from his teammates, and a team photo was taken at center ice.

APRIL 22 | CAPS PICK UP A PAIR OF POINTS WITHOUT SCORING ANY GOALS
For the first time in Washington's franchise history, the Caps earned two standings points without scoring any goals in a 1-0 shootout win over the Islanders on Long Island. With Ilya Samsonov facing ex-Caps goalie Semyon Varlamov for New York, both goalies were perfect through 65 minutes of hockey, combining to stop 54 shots. Evgeny Kuznetsov's shootout goal put the two standings points in Washington's column. The shutout was Samsonov's second of the season.

APRIL 27 | CAPS WELCOME FANS BACK, BLANK ISLES FOR SECOND TIME IN THREE GAMES
The Caps welcomed fans back to Capital One Arena for the first time in 13 and a half months, sending them home happy after claiming their third win in as many straight games over the Islanders, and their second 1-0 triumph over New York in a span of six nights. Daniel Sprong scored the only goal of the game early in the first period and Vitek Vanecek made 18 saves to record his second shutout of the season.

MAY 3 | SHORT-STAFFED CAPS OVERWHELM RANGERS, 6-3
Playing with only 17 skaters for the first time in over 17 years, the Caps started the game with 11 forwards and finished with only 10, but six of them found the back of the net in a 6-3 win over the Rangers as Washington won at Madison Square Garden for the first time in just over two years. Garnet Hathaway scored the only goal of the game early in the first period and Vitek Vanecek made 18 saves to record his second shutout of the season.

MAY 5 | OSHIE’S HAT TRICK PROPELS CAPS TO EMOTIONAL 4-1 WIN OVER RANGERS
Playing his first game since the passing of his father the day before, T.J. Oshie recorded his fourth career hat trick to lead the Caps to victory in a game fueled with emotion from the outset. A line brawl started the game, and for the first time in NHL history, there were six fights in the first five minutes of the contest. Oshie scored a pair of power-play goals in the second period and added a late empty-netter, helping Vitek Vanecek become the third Caps rookie goaltender ever to win 20 games in a season. With the victory in the road finale of the season, Washington secured the best road record in franchise history (19-7-2).

MAY 8 | CAPS RALLY FOR LATE WIN OVER PHILLY
Playing with a short bench for the third time in four games and playing without every member of their “letterman” leadership trio of Alex Ovechkin, Nicklas Backstrom and John Carlson, and after losing T.J. Oshie to injury late in the second period, the Caps rallied from a 1-0 deficit with less than a minute remaining in regulation to eke out a 2-1 overtime win over the Flyers. Lars Eller – who skated a single-game career high of 25:49 in the game – scored a 6-on-5 goal with netminder Craig Anderson pulled for an extra attacker, tying the game and sending it to overtime. With a minute remaining in the extra session, Conor Sheary scored to give the Caps their third win in four games.

As the former vice chairman of Washington 2024, Mr. Leonsis assumed a leading role in guiding the region’s bid for the 2024 Summer Olympic and Paralympic Games. In June 2014, the United States Olympic Committee identified Washington and three other cities as potential locations.

Mr. Leonsis also co-founded and chairs the Greater Washington Partnership, which played a critical role in organizing the region’s bid process for Amazon’s HQ2. The bid was successful, which was built on cooperation between Washington, Maryland and Virginia, and offers a great blueprint for tackling economic challenges for everything from housing to transportation to workforce development.

Thanks to a $1.5 million gift from the Leonsis family, the legacy of Georgetown entrepreneurship continues with the launch of the Georgetown Venture Lab. The lab provides a collaborative space for the university and its network of alumni entrepreneurs to catalyze startups and invest in innovation. The Georgetown Venture Lab also plays a critical role in the region’s leadership in supporting the university’s entrepreneurial community. In 2016, they launched the Leonsis Family Entrepreneurship Prize to honor and financially assist students and recent alumni who kickstart social impact ventures and initiatives.

AOL

During his 14-year career at AOL, Mr. Leonsis served as president of America Online Services Company, president of AOL Studios, president of AOL Web Properties, vice chairman and president of AOL Core Services, vice chairman and president of AOL Audience Business and vice chairman emeritus. The company recorded its greatest levels of revenue and profits during his leadership and in May 2010 AOL named a 20-story office tower The Leonsis Center in his honor. Mr. Leonsis retired from active management of AOL in 2006.

Author

Mr. Leonsis has authored numerous books, including "Blue Magic: The People, Power and Politics Behind the IBM PC" and "The Business of Happiness: 6 Secrets to Extraordinary Success in Work and Life."
Dick Patrick has been part of the Washington Capitals organization since 1982 and was one of Ted Leonsis's original partners when Monumental Sports & Entertainment was formed in June 2010. Mr. Patrick is President of the Capitals and Vice Chairman of Monumental Sports & Entertainment. For the first five years of MSE’s existence, Mr. Patrick also assumed initial responsibility as Chief Operating Officer and was involved in all facets of operating three professional sports franchises – the Capitals, Washington Wizards and the Washington Mystics – and Capital One Arena.

For three generations the family name of Patrick has been synonymous with the sport of hockey and the National Hockey League. Mr. Patrick’s grandfather, Lester Patrick, was the longtime coach and general manager of the New York Rangers. In his honor, the Lester Patrick Trophy is awarded annually for “outstanding service to hockey in the United States.” It was Lester who instilled in his family the desire to remain active in the advancement of the sport of hockey and the National Hockey League. Mr. Patrick’s father, Muzz, and uncle, Lynn, both played on the 1940 New York Rangers team that captured the Stanley Cup. In October 2012, Dick Patrick was awarded the Lester Patrick Trophy for his contributions to hockey in the United States. Mr. Patrick and his son, Chris, who is the Capitals director of player personnel, became the sixth and seventh members of the Patrick family to win the Stanley Cup in 2018, a tradition that goes back 100 years in their legendary family.

Mr. Patrick’s cousin, Craig Patrick, played for the Capitals from 1977-79. He won two Stanley Cups as general manager of the Pittsburgh Penguins and was enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame in November 2001 in the “builder” category.

Before Mr. Patrick’s arrival, the Capitals had never advanced to postseason play. In his 37 seasons with the club, Washington has qualified for the playoffs 30 times – including the team’s Stanley Cup championship in 2018, the run to the Stanley Cup Final in 1998 and three Presidents’ Trophy-winning teams (2009-10, 2015-16, 2016-17). During the 2010s, the Capitals (465-232-0-90) recorded the most wins of any team and only trailed the Montreal Canadiens of the 1970s (501-160-130-0) and the Boston Bruins of the 1970s (487-190-111-0) as the winningest franchise of any decade. Additionally, with a .648 point percentage, the Capitals only trailed the 1970 Canadiens and Bruins (Montreal: .712; Boston: .689) and the 2000s Detroit Red Wings (.682) in point percentage in a decade.

Born in 1946 in Victoria, B.C., Mr. Patrick grew up in the United States. He earned his undergraduate degree from Dartmouth College and a law degree from the Washington College of Law at American University. He has developed commercial real estate in the Washington, D.C., area for more than 20 years and, while raising children who have skated within local youth hockey programs, he has been instrumental in increasing the Capitals’ involvement in youth programs throughout the area.
Brian MacLellan is in his seventh season as general manager of the Capitals. MacLellan, 62, was named the sixth general manager in the franchise’s history on May 26, 2014 and is in his 19th season with Washington after previously serving as the team's assistant general manager, player personnel.

Since appointing MacLellan as general manager, the Capitals are 294-135-50 and have led the League in points (638), road wins (140) and have recorded the second-most wins (294) in the NHL. With 90 points in 69 games before the suspension-shortened 2019-20 season, the Capitals were again on pace to reach the 100-point mark. They would have become the fourth franchise in NHL history to reach the mark six consecutive times, joining the Detroit Red Wings (12 times: 1999-00 to 2011-12), the Montreal Canadiens (eight times: 1974-75 to 1981-82) and the Edmonton Oilers (1981-82 to 1986-87).

During MacLellan's tenure, the Capitals have won two Presidents’ Trophies and a franchise-record five consecutive Metropolitan Division titles.

With MacLellan at the helm, the Capitals won their first Stanley Cup in 2018. Of the 19 players to take the ice during the Cup-clinching win in Game 5, eight players were either signed, traded for or drafted by MacLellan, including three of the four players that scored in the game (Jakub Vrana, Devante Smith-Pelly and Lars Eller). The Capitals tied an NHL record with 10 road wins during the run and joined the 1991 Pittsburgh Penguins as the only teams to win the Stanley Cup despite trailing in all four series.

In the 2016-17 season, the Capitals won their second consecutive Presidents’ Trophy, marking the seventh time in NHL history a team has won the Presidents’ Trophy in consecutive seasons. Washington posted a 55-19-8 record, marking the second-most wins and third-most points (118) in a season in franchise history. The Capitals recorded 55 wins in two straight seasons (2015-16: 56, 2016-17: 55), joining the Montreal Canadiens (1975-78) as the only teams in NHL history to win 55 or more games in consecutive seasons. Washington also earned 238 points in the prior two seasons at the time, marking the most points in two straight seasons since Montreal recorded 244 points from 1977-79.

In the 2015-16 season, Washington led the NHL with a record of 56-18-8 (120 points) and captured its second Presidents’ Trophy in franchise history (2009-10). The Capitals set franchise records in wins and road wins (27) and MacLellan was named a finalist for the 2015-16 NHL General Manager of the Year Award.

In his first season, Washington posted a record of 45-26-11 (101 points), reaching the 100 point mark for the eighth time in team history and the first since the 2010-11 season.

In his previous role, MacLellan oversaw the club’s professional scouting staff and worked closely with the team’s American Hockey League affiliate, the Hershey Bears, who won the Calder Cup in 2006, 2009 and 2010. MacLellan, who served as a pro scout for the Capitals from 2000-03 prior to his promotion to director of player personnel, assisted and advised the general manager in all player-related matters.

MacLellan, who won a Stanley Cup with the Calgary Flames in 1989, recorded 413 points (172 goals, 241 assists) in 606 games during his 10-year NHL career with the Los Angeles Kings, New York Rangers, Minnesota North Stars, Calgary Flames and Detroit Red Wings. MacLellan also won a silver medal with Team Canada at the 1985 World Championship in Prague.

The Guelph, Ont., native played hockey at Bowling Green State University from 1978-82, registering 143 points (64g, 79a) in 160 games. MacLellan’s 345 career penalty minutes rank sixth in school history. The 6’3” forward earned 63 points his freshman year, marking the second most points by a freshman in school history. During his junior season, MacLellan moved to defense and was named an All-American defenseman and First-Team All-CCHA in 1982. MacLellan served as co-captain for the Falcons from 1980-82. He was elected to the Bowling Green Athletic Hall of Fame in 1987. MacLellan graduated with a bachelor of science in business administration from the University of St. Thomas in 1995. He went on to work for an investment consulting firm in Minneapolis before joining the Capitals as a pro scout.

Laviolette, 56, is in his first season with the Capitals after becoming the 19th head coach in franchise history. Laviolette brings 18 years of NHL head coaching experience to the organization, having previously coached the New York Islanders (2001-03), the Carolina Hurricanes (2003-08), the Philadelphia Flyers (2009-13) and the Nashville Predators (2014-20). Laviolette has compiled a career coaching record of 637-425-25-123 and ranks second in wins among U.S.-born coaches and 16th overall in NHL history.

Laviolette became the fourth American-born coach to win the Stanley Cup in 2006 with Carolina. In his career, Laviolette has led 11 teams to postseason appearances and has an overall record of 75-68 in the playoffs. Laviolette is the fourth coach in NHL history to lead three different teams to the Stanley Cup Final (Carolina: 2006, Philadelphia: 2010, Nashville: 2017), joining Dick Irvin, Scotty Bowman and Mike Keenan.

Laviolette-coached teams have consistently ranked well offensively and defensively. In 13 full seasons, his teams have ranked in the top 10 in goals seven times. In six seasons with Nashville, Laviolette led the Predators to 248 wins. In his first season in Nashville in 2014-15, the Predators improved by nine wins and 16 points in the standings, with Laviolette and his staff representing the team at the All-Star Game. In the spring of 2017, the Laviolette-led Predators became the third club seeded lowest in its conference to advance to the Stanley Cup Final since the League adopted the conference-based playoff format in 1994. The club followed that up with a best record in franchise history (53-18-11, 117 points), a Presidents’ Trophy and a Central Division title in 2017-18. In six seasons under Laviolette, the Predators ranked fourth (excluding Vegas) in the NHL with a 52.1 shot attempt percentage at five-on-five (19,082 shot attempts for, 17,565 against). Additionally, Nashville was tied with Los Angeles for the least amount of goals against in the NHL (1,051) in his five full seasons.

With each of his previous NHL coaching stops, the team saw an overall improvement from their season prior to his arrival. The Islanders finished with 96 points and the eighth-best record in the League in 2001-02 after finishing the previous season 30th in the NHL with 52 points. In 2005-06, Laviolette’s first full season with the Hurricanes, Carolina finished with 112 points and captured the Stanley Cup after finishing with 76 points the year prior. With Philadelphia, the Flyers improved to 106 points in 2010-11 after finishing with 88 points in 2009-10. Laviolette led the Predators to 104 points in his first season in 2014-15 from 88 points the season prior.

Internationally, Laviolette has coached Team USA at the World Championship in 2004, 2005 and 2014. He has also represented his country in four Olympic Games, first as a player in the 1988 Calgary Games and the 1994 Lillehammer Games, then as a head coach at the 2006 Torino Games, and as an assistant at February’s 2014 Sochi Games.

After recording 268 points (78g-190a) in 594 minor-league games in the American and International hockey leagues (Indianapolis, Colorado, Denver, Flint, Binghamton, Providence and San Diego) from 1986-97, and appearing in 12 games for the New York Rangers in 1988-89, Laviolette began his coaching career with the ECHL’s Wheeling Nailers in 1997. After posting a 37-24-9 record and reaching the conference finals in his rookie coaching season, he was hired as head coach of the AHL’s Providence Bruins, and led the team to an AHL-best 56-16-4-4 record and a Calder Cup in 1998-99, just one season after the team had gone 19-49-7-5 and finished last in the league. Following the 1999-2000 season, the 1999 AHL Coach of the Year was promoted to assistant coach of the parent Boston Bruins, which he held for a single campaign (2000-01) before starting his NHL head coaching career with the Islanders in 2001-02.

A native of Franklin, Mass., and graduate of Westfield State College, Laviolette and his wife, Kristen, have three children – sons Peter and Jack, and daughter Elisabeth.

KETTLERLOFTLEVEL.COM
The Washington Capitals ushered in a new era for the franchise in 2006 with the opening of MedStar Capitals Iceplex, a community ice rink in Arlington, Va., that serves as the Capitals’ training facility and home to the team’s administrative offices. The project, a joint venture between the Washington Capitals and Arlington County, is located on the eighth level of the parking garage attached to Ballston Quarter.

The 137,000-square-foot facility includes two NHL-size ice rinks with seating for approximately 1,200, office space, two pro shops, a snack bar, media facilities and additional space for special events. The 20,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art training center for the Capitals features a large weight and fitness room, extensive athletic-training and medical facilities, spacious locker-room and lounge areas, a theater-style classroom and a high-tech video room.

MedStar Capitals Iceplex hosted Capitals training camp for the 14th year in 2020. It has also played host to 13 Capitals summer development camps and the unveiling of the team’s new logos and jerseys in 2007. In 2013, MedStar Capitals Iceplex hosted the United States Olympic Men’s National Team Orientation Camp, designed to assist in the preparation of the 2014 U.S. Olympic Men’s Ice Hockey Team that competed at the XXII Olympic Winter Games in Sochi, Russia. It also hosted the U.S. Under-18 Select Team and U.S. Under-17 Select Team in 2015.

The structure was built atop the existing seven-story public parking garage at the corner of North Glebe Road and North Randolph Street in the heart of Ballston. The $42.8 million project, designed by Architecture Inc. of Reston, Va., included the addition of an eighth level of parking to the garage. MedStar Capitals Iceplex is the only rink in the United States built eight or more stories above street level.

The facility is the first indoor ice rink inside the Capital Beltway in Virginia and just the second facility of its kind anywhere inside the Beltway (Ft. DuPont Ice Rink in D.C. is the other). With the Orange and Silver Line reaching the Ballston Metro Station nearby, MedStar Capitals Iceplex is the only community rink located on the Metrorail system.

The two ice sheets offer an estimated 12,000 hours of ice time per year for use by youth, high school and college hockey teams, figure skating, synchronized skating, recreational skating, learn-to-skate programs and hockey and broomball. The Washington Little Capitals, a top tier 1 program, play at the facility as well as the recently developed Capitals Hockey Academy Travel teams and Rooftop Hockey House League. At least 500 hours of ice time are donated by the Capitals to Arlington County to offer the economically disadvantaged and physically and mentally challenged members of the community an opportunity to use the facility.
