REMEMBER ME?

Vincent Trocheck scored a power-play goal tonight, and he has now scored in each of his first four games against the Panthers since being acquired by the Hurricanes on 2/24/20. He became the first Whalers/Hurricanes player since the NHL began tracking trades in 1991-92 to score in his first four games against his former team after being traded. He has now earned 22 points (13g, 9a) this season, which is tied with Sebastian Aho (9g, 13a) for the team lead. Trocheck leads the team in both goals and power-play goals (6).

SOME MORE OLD FRIENDS

James Reimer played against the Panthers for the third time since being traded to the Hurricanes on 6/30/19. He is now 3-0-0 with a 2.59 goals-against average and .923 save percentage in those three games. Eetu Luostarinen faced the Hurricanes for the fourth time since being dealt as part of the trade for Trocheck. He made his NHL debut with the Hurricanes on 11/7/19 vs. NYR and tallied one assist in eight games with the team last season. Gustav Forsling, who recorded 26 points (8g, 18a) in 57 AHL games with Charlotte last season, played against the Hurricanes for the second time since being claimed off waivers by the Panthers on 1/9.

THAT'S MY QUARTERBACK

Dougie Hamilton registered a power-play assist tonight to extend his assist streak to five games (2/27-3/7: 6a), the longest by any Hurricanes player this season. Hamilton leads the team in both assists (16) and power-play assists (10) this season, and he entered tonight's game ranked tied for fourth and tied for third in those categories among NHL defensemen in those categories, respectively.

SLAVIN AWAY

Jaccob Slavin was assessed a minor penalty for delay of game in the second period tonight. He had not been assessed a penalty in his last 895:20 of ice time dating back to 2/2/20 vs. VAN. Since he entered the league in 2015-16, Slavin has posted only 60 penalty minutes, the fewest of any NHL defenseman with at least 300 games played in that span.

GO SHORTY

Sebastian Aho scored his first shorthanded goal of the season tonight, joining Brock McGinn (1/31 vs. DAL) as the only Hurricanes players to accomplish the feat this season. Aho has now scored 10 career shorthanded goals, tying Rod Brind'Amour for second in the category in team history (since relocation) and for third in franchise history.

FIRST HALF TEAM

With tonight's win, the Hurricanes are now 17-6-1 (35 points) in 2020-21, marking the most points through 24 games in franchise history. Carolina's previous best record through 24 games came in 2005-06, when the team started 16-7-1 (33 points).

STICK TAPS

Keith Yandle played his 1,000th career NHL game tonight. He also played in his 890th consecutive game, extending the longest active ironman streak and the third-longest in NHL history.
